

Open Education Resources (OERs)

How to Go "TEXTBOOK - LESS"

November 25, 2019

Presented by: Stephanie DeMichele,
Instructional Technology Consultant, ESCNEO

Why are we—in the 21st century—still relying on learning materials that are antiquated? Why are we still burdening our students (and ourselves) with cumbersome, expensive and outdated textbooks? At a time when we have the most powerful online educational tools at our disposal, why are we still espousing a one-size-fits-all methodology? There is a better way!

Open Educational Resources (OERs) are cloud-based, relevant, timely, interactive and FREE materials that allow educators to fuel collaboration, engage learners, and keep educational materials relevant, customizable, and inexpensive. In this workshop, educators will:

- Explore vetted, easy to navigate OER sources categorized by content area
- Discover new ways to deliver instructional materials in the digital age
- Examine ways to best formatively assess learning in a “text-book-less” classroom
- Curate a lesson plan for their own online “textbook-less” classroom

Where: Auglaize County Educational Service Center
1045 Dearbaugh Ave., Suite 2
Wapakoneta

Times: 8:30 am – 3:00 pm
With an hour lunch on your own

Registration: <https://forms.gle/gjrr5aRmpLYvpuDLS>

Cost: $45.00

Questions: Contact Shawn Brown at sbrown@auglaizeesc.org or 419-738-3422

